

Overall Vision

I would like the website to feel calm, elegant, warm and premium.

When someone lands on the homepage they should immediately feel:

- I will be listened to.
- I can trust these clinicians.
- This is a modern private healthcare clinic.
- This practice values long-term relationships rather than selling treatments.

The website should feel closer to a luxury medical clinic or boutique wellness brand than a typical dental practice. It should avoid clichés such as bright blue colours, smiling stock photos and overly clinical imagery. Research and examples of successful dental branding consistently emphasise authentic photography, strong trust signals and a consistent brand experience rather than generic healthcare design.

Design Direction

I love the overall direction shown in the attached concept.

The key elements I would like to retain are:

- Soft neutral colour palette
- Warm lighting
- Minimalist layout
- Large elegant typography
- Plenty of white space
- Calm photography
- High-end editorial feel
- Lifestyle rather than sales-driven

The website should feel timeless rather than trendy.

Colour Palette

I don't necessarily want the website to match our interior exactly.

Instead I want everything to feel as though it belongs to the same brand.

I'd like colours inspired by:

- warm ivory
- soft stone
- muted blush
- natural oak
- charcoal
- muted terracotta accents

Avoid bright whites and harsh blues.

Typography

I'd like typography to be one of the defining features of the website.

Large elegant headings with lots of breathing space.

Simple readable body text.

Nothing overly decorative.

Tone of Voice

The copy should feel:

- reassuring
- intelligent
- calm
- compassionate
- honest
- confident

Never pushy.

Never gimmicky.

Never sales focused.

The emphasis should be on helping patients make informed decisions.

Homepage

The homepage should communicate who we are before what we do.

Rather than leading with treatments, I'd like visitors to understand our philosophy.

Messages like:

Care that starts with listening.

Personalised dentistry centred around you.

Dentistry built on trust, relationships and long-term health.

Treatments can come afterwards.

Navigation

Keep navigation clean and uncluttered.

I want patients to be able to find information quickly without being overwhelmed.

Calls to Action

Buttons should feel understated rather than aggressive.

Examples:

Book Consultation

Meet Our Team

Our Approach

Start Your Journey

Brand Positioning

I want Kings Hill Clinic to feel different from competitors.

The brand should communicate:

- Professional
- Ethical
- Highly experienced
- Modern
- Calm
- Welcoming
- Detail orientated

Not:

- Cosmetic-first
- Cheap
- Discount focused
- Corporate
- Overly clinical

Patient Experience

The website should reflect the experience patients receive when they visit us.

Every interaction should feel:

“We’ll listen first.”

“We’ll explain everything.”

“We’ll never pressure you.”

“We’ll help you choose what’s right for you.”

Small Design Details I’d Like

- Rounded corners
- Soft shadows
- Gentle hover animations
- Full-width photography
- Plenty of whitespace
- Consistent icon style
- Natural textures where appropriate
- Mobile-first design

Overall Goal

The finished website should make prospective patients think:

“This feels different from other dental practices. It feels calm, personal and trustworthy. This is somewhere I would feel comfortable bringing my family and investing in my long-term oral health.”
